G. Minikel presented to the Committee and property owners in attendance the work that will take place on Reed Avenue in 2023. The preliminary plans included 5 options that he presented. There were several property owners present to talk. Greg said that trees will be removed and replaced with other trees. The sidewalk along the northside will be removed and replaced as most is in poor condition. He explained that our main objective is to slow down the traffic and incorporate a multi-use path or a bike lane.

Several property owners spoke and all were in favor of option 4. This option includes the 14' islands to remain, the roadway narrows by 6 feet each side with parking on both sides, and install a 10' wide multi-use asphalt path on south side only.

The following property owners spoke at meeting:

Mike Howe, 220 N 7th Street, had a few questions about how far the project would go on Reed.

John Herrenbruck, 212 Reed Avenue, wanted islands to remain to keep it a residential neighborhood

Kevin Reisboldt, 120 Reed Avenue, would like islands to remain and had a few questions regarding sidewalks and approaches.

Clint Rau, Pediatric Dentist, needs assessibility throughout the project as he has emergencies and patients in need of care. Semi truck assessibility to the Piggly Wiggly is also important and mentioned making the approach/driveway currently busted up by semi trucks. He also recommended shortening up the island so people leaving his office can turn left and head west without going around the island. He recommends keeping the islands and installing a crossing area as he witnesses quite a few kids with near miss accidents trying to get across Reed Avenue.

Dave Bauman, First Methodist Church, recommends access during construction. He would like the option to park in front of Church in events they need the extra parking.

Bill Stalvey, 304 Reed Avenue, recommended removal of all of the trees with new ones planted.

Neal Verfuherth, 601 Reed Ave, recommended the islands remain as they make the neighborhood.

Alderman voiced their opinions and were all in favor of the Option #4, the residents spoke and they are all in favor of leaving the boulevard.
